Luxuriating on silky white-sand beaches, cruising on warm turquoise waters, feeling a gentle salt-spray breeze. Nothing says “vacation” quite like the Caribbean. So put on your shades, pack up your swimsuit, and leave the winter chill behind.

Barbados

The Fine Art of Fine Living

The most British of the Caribbean islands, Barbados is a fascinating mélange of tradition, sophistication and rich island culture. On this beautiful isle, luxurious accommodations, high-end dining and luxe spas sit amid sugar-white beaches, lush greenery and crystal blue waters. Throughout 2016, Barbados celebrates 50 years of independence — and it's not too late to catch the festivities.

On Nov. 30, the historic occasion will be commemorated with a monumental flag ceremony, military parade and a cultural presentation. Throughout November, the Barbados Food & Rum Festival will feature local chefs, wine experts and mixologists presenting Caribbean-inspired dishes and libations. Golden Jubilee celebrations also include the National Independence Festival of Creative Arts' "Night of the Masters" (Nov. 20), a competition featuring special performances in dance, music and more.

Traveling to Barbados is easy, with new direct flights on JetBlue out of New York, Boston and Fort Lauderdale as well as direct flights out of Atlanta on American Airlines. And beginning Nov. 19, JetBlue will fly directly from Newark International Airport to Bridgetown, Barbados.

Much of the Bajan spirit can be appreciated in its delectable food and drink — especially its rum. More than 1,500 rum shops are scattered across the island, and Mount Gay Rum, created in 1703, is the one of the oldest distilled spirits in the world. Savor the island's famous spirit with a tour of the Mount Gay Rum Factory and enjoy a delicious Bajan lunch afterward in the Verandah restaurant overlooking the sea.

Snapper, shellfish, and the popular national emblem, the flying fish, are on every menu, from five-star restaurants to beachside cafés. Other must-try Bajan delicacies include Cou-Cou (a cornmeal and okra dish), Pepperpot (a spicy stew), and Jug-Jug (a mixture of guinea corn and green peas). Experience authentic island life with fresh grilled fish, rum and reggae at Oistins Friday Night Fish Fry, or get a taste of British Barbados with high tea at the Fairmont Royal Pavilion in Porters, St. James.

The Barbados coastline, which lies on both the Atlantic Ocean and the Caribbean Sea, is diverse, varying from gentle beaches to rugged cliffs. The low-lying Caribbean west coast, where many of the island’s hotels are located, shimmer with star-studded beaches such as Mullins Beach, Church Point and Paynes Bay. The wind-blown Atlantic east coast is great for cliffhanging hikes, secret beach picnics and surfing. On the South Coast, Crane Beach, with cliffs, dunes, pink sands and beautiful waters, has been named one of the best beaches in the world.

With more than 70 miles of coastline, Barbados offers a range of aquatic adventures. Take a catamaran cruise, which includes a sumptuous meal prepared by some of the Caribbean’s top chefs, and a dip in the warm, clear water to swim among sea turtles. Scuba dive among the island’s fringes, reefs coral formations and ship wrecks, and come face to face with turtles, sea horses and a host of colorful marine life.

On land, Barbados is full of historic sites. Relive Colonial days at the Sunbury Plantation House, or visit a rare Jacobean mansion at St. Nicholas Abbey. Explore the stalactites, stalagmites, streams, lakes and waterfalls in the world-famous Crystal Room in Harrison’s Cave. Visit the only house that young George Washington lived in outside the United States, and the Nidhe Israel Synagogue, a Barbados National Trust-protected building originally built in 1654 and restored to its original beauty.

There is no shortage of hotels and resorts that capture the spirit of Barbados, and many boast recent upgrades: the popular Cobbler’s Cove has completely refurbished all eight of its ocean-front suites; the Savannah Beach Hotel, a Unesco World Heritage Site, is renovating its rooms into Victorian-style plantation rooms, each with its own theme; and the Sandpiper boasts three new luxury beachfront suites and a new swimming pool.

Adventure, romance, history—it all comes together in Barbados, where each place has a story, each meal is a celebration and each day brings new discoveries.

The Cayman Islands

Find Your Bliss

Beach Soleil, the exclusive beach club of Le Soleil d’Or, on Cayman Brac.

The Cayman Islands is just over an hour from Miami (with nonstop flights available from most major cities), but a world away from the expected. A fabulous destination year-round — and particularly during the cold, grey Northeast winter — Cayman offers new high-end accommodations, bespoke activities and world-class fare that have made it a go-to spot for the luxury traveler.

Throughout the three islands, especially in Grand Cayman, an array of upscale resorts, hotels, condominiums and private villas compete with the best in the world: The Ritz-Carlton, Grand Cayman, Grand Cayman Marriott Beach Resort, The Westin Grand Cayman Seven Mile Beach Resort & Spa, and Le Soleil d’Or on scenic Cayman Brac. Opening this month, the Kimpton Seafire Resort + Spa on Grand Cayman (the brand’s first Caribbean property) is set on the renowned Seven Mile Beach. This boutique-style hotel will include residences, beachfront bungalows, a trendsetting spa, six restaurants and bars and two ocean-view pools.

For the inquisitive and well-heeled crowd, Cayman offers a host of exclusive experiences. Pedal through the tranquil area of East End on Grand Cayman on a scenic bike ride with Eco-Rides Cayman, and learn about the history and heritage of the area. Explore the Cayman Islands’ vibrant blue waters and visit the world-renowned Stingray City aboard a private yacht. Fly high on an unforgettable Sunset Helicopter ride via Cayman Islands Helicopters, which includes a sunset helicopter flight, a decadent meal at The Ritz-

Carlton, Grand Cayman or at a restaurant in Camana Bay, and a chauffeured limousine back to your hotel. On land, get your culture fix at the Grand Cayman White Dog Art Studio located in Breakers, where you can meet local artists and buy original pieces.

Some come to Cayman for just one reason: the fabulous fare. Often called the Culinary Capital of the Caribbean, the Cayman Islands is an epicurean’s dream, with dining choices that range from high-end chic to roadside authentic. Grab a bite and a cocktail at The Kings Head, a Victorian-themed pub with unique décor. Savor the ultimate low-and-slow Caribbean barbeque at Smokies. Take a dining adventure on Camana Bay’s weekly Flavor Tour, as signature restaurants present four small-course plates complemented by a feature cocktail or wine pairing, culminating with a taste of one of the 80 vintages at West Indies Wine Company. Or hire your own world-class private chef, such as of Keith Griffin, a member of the Cayman Islands National Culinary Team, to cook up whatever your taste buds desire.

The Cayman Islands is ahead of the curve in farm-to-table offerings. The Brasserie in George Town is hyper-local, with its own vegetable and herb garden, breadfruit and banana trees that supply the kitchen with produce, and two fishermen on the payroll to ensure it gets the best catch of the day. Dine family style in the garden for a sublime culinary experience. A farm-to-fork/sea-to-table dinner at Cayman Cabana every Thursday night features the islands’ freshest fruits, vegetables, fish and meats. Get as close to your food source as possible at Le Soleil d’Or: tour the property’s 20-acre organic farm, pick fruit, vegetables and herbs, and participate in farm-to-table cooking classes — and finally, savor the healthy, divine dishes prepared in the resort’s two restaurants.

Cementing its status as an epicurean haven, Cayman hosts a variety of world-class culinary events. Indulge in island-inspired dishes at the annual Cayman Cookout, January 12–15, 2017 — the Caribbean’s premier gastronomic experience hosted by chef Eric Ripert at the Ritz-Carlton, Grand Cayman. Enjoy tastings, demonstrations, tours and dinners served up by a roster of world-famous chefs, including Anthony Bourdain, José Andrés and Emeril Lagasse. The annual Taste of Cayman Food & Wine Festival held at Camana Bay on Jan. 28, 2017 is another day full of culinary delights, where you can sample food and wine from Grand Cayman’s many restaurants and enjoy live music and fireworks.

The revolutionary MSC Seaside will sail from Miami to the Caribbean in December 2017.

MSC Cruises

Sail the Caribbean in Elegance

What’s a great way to experience the Caribbean islands, with all the perks of a fine hotel, without packing and unpacking? A cruise. Swiss-based MCS Cruises sets the standard in Caribbean cruising, with amazing service, unique entertainment, Mediterranean-inspired cuisine and luxurious amenities — even a private island preserve in the Bahamas just for guests.

MSC Divina, one of the line’s youngest and most ultramodern ships, sails to the Caribbean year-round from Miami, with ports of call in Barbados, Martinique, Jamaica, Saint Lucia, Guadeloupe, Trinidad and Tobago and the Bahamas. In December 2017, MSC Divina will be joined by the new 5,179-passenger MSC Seaside, known as “the ship that follows the sun.” This vessel, designed for warm weather, brings guests closer to the sea. Book early to sail on one of the hottest new ships to arrive on the cruise scene.

Catering to the sophisticated traveler, MSC Seaside — part of a $10.2 billion fleet expansion — is innovative and luxurious. With the largest ratio of outdoor space of any cruise ship at sea, MSC Seaside will feature panoramic elevators with sea views, suspended glass outdoor catwalks and glass doors, and an outdoor promenade filled with shops, bars and alfresco dining.

Discover a private and exclusive area only for those sailing in MSC Yacht Club — where you can indulge in the luxury of a private club while enjoying access to the myriad of recreation and entertainment possibilities throughout the rest of the ship: the casino, the theater, and world-class entertainment every night. The MSC Yacht Club is an entirely self-contained private club on the foredecks of the ship, with sweeping views and a range of private facilities. Guest enjoy a private pool and whirlpool baths; a private V.I.P. lounge, where you can unwind with panoramic ocean views; an exclusive restaurant; and a private elevator that whisks MSC Yacht Club guests discretely to the exclusive MSC Aurea Spa. MSC Yacht Club guests also enjoy the highest level of customized service — a 24/7 concierge to create tailor-made excursions, a personal butler and more.

Both MSC Divina and MSC Seaside MSC Yacht Club will visit the Ocean Cay MSC Marine Reserve, scheduled to open in late 2018. This private island in the Bahamas, just 60 miles from Miami, will include 11,000 feet of pristine beach, nightlife, live music at the 2,000-seat amphitheater, and many restaurants. On this private island, MSC Yacht Club guests will receive V.I.P. service in their own exclusive, private area, with butler service, an exclusive spa and wellness sanctuary with private bungalows and massage huts. MSC Cruises is working closely with the Bahamian government and ecologists to ensure that this private preserve will harmoniously coexist with the local ecosystem.

MSC Seaside will also cater to kids — or the kids in us all — with a range of over-the-top activities. These activities include the most interactive aqua park at sea, which has five mega water slides; the Slideboarding tube, which combines video games, lights, music and a 367-foot water slide; the longest zip-line on any cruise ship; a ropes course that will have cruisers ducking spray cannons; an interactive 5D cinema; a full-sized bowling alley; a kids-only restaurant; and dedicated LEGO and Chicco play areas.

With 12 ultramodern ships that sail to more than 150 destinations across the globe, MSC Cruises is the world’s largest family-owned cruise line. With elegant décor, award-winning entertainment, and authentic, Mediterranean-inspired cuisine, MSC Cruises is the perfect way to experience the Caribbean — and the world.

Marriott Caribbean Resorts

Paradise Found

Full of island light, life and energy, Marriott Caribbean Resorts boasts some of the most luxurious properties in the region: think contemporary and chic accommodations, state-of-the-art amenities and stunning oceanfront locations. Experience a Marriott vacation in Aruba, Cancún, Curaçao, Grand Cayman, Los Cabos, Puerto Vallarta, St. Kitts, St. Thomas and more. And when you book premium rooms or suites through the end of the year, you'll earn up to a $400 resort credit.

How can you spend that credit? Here are some ideas.

Set on one of the Caribbean's most romantic islands, St. Kitts Marriott Resort & The Royal Beach Casino has a West Indian vibe and cutting-edge comforts at every turn. Spend your resort credit on the local favorite Ting with a Sting cocktail from the Bohemia Beach Pool Bar & Grill; the cocktail consists of locally made Cane Spirit Rothschild (sugar-cane rum) and Ting soda flavored with Jamaican grapefruit. Served on ice, this zesty cocktail is perfect for cooling off while lounging by the pool or at beach.

The recently transformed Grand Cayman Marriott Beach Resort rises from the Caribbean's beloved Seven Mile Beach. Spend your resort credit on the resort's many cocktail and culinary happenings: Anchor & Den restaurant's weekly Mad Tea Parties, inspired by "Alice in Wonderland," or the Boulangerie Brunch on Sundays, which serves up charcuterie, regional cheese, homemade baked breads and bottomless glasses of De Chanceny's Cremant de Loire.

Nestled between the Sierra Madre Mountains and beautiful Banderas Bay, CasaMagna Marriott Puerto Vallarta Resort & Spa is one of the few resorts in the world that makes its own brand of tequila, harvested from the blue agave plants grown onsite in the hotel's garden. Spend your resort credit on one of the weekly tequila tastings at La Cava wine cellar, led by the property's tequila sommelier. Then buy your own bottle at Deli Los Mangos to take home.

A playground retreat for all generations, Aruba Marriott Resort & Stellaris Casino features an upscale hotel within a hotel, and the most spacious rooms on the island. Aruba is famous for its seafood, so spend your credit on a delectable fresh seafood meal at the resort's Atardi restaurant such as Tuna Carpaccio, Blackened Mahi Mahi or Macademian Grouper.

Frenchman's Reef & Morning Star Beach Resort is the quintessential U.S. Virgin Island hotel, with fresh Caribbean décor and state-of-the-art amenities amid a lush, tropical setting. Spend the resort credit on an Exfoliating Sea Mud Treatment at Lazule Sea Spa and Salon, which includes a therapeutic massage with endorphin-releasing aromatherapy serum.

Located in the heart of the Hotel Zone, the luxurious JW Marriott Cancún Resort & Spa features elegant rooms and suites with private balconies and stunning views of Cancún's white sand beaches and the turquoise waters of the Caribbean. Spend your credit at the 35,000-square-foot über-spa, featuring a state-of-the-art gym overlooking the beach, private and group fitness classes, an indoor lap pool and a Mayan-inspired treatment menu. You can also spend your credit booking one of the resort's beachfront Bali beds, which comes with fresh fruit and views of the beach.

The luxurious, beachside CasaMagna Marriott Cancún Resort offers high-end living, a Kid's Club and a host of family-friendly activities. For adults, your resort credit is put to good use at the international Wine Cave, where you can expand your palate with over 200 different labels from around the globe.

Set at the point where the Sea of Cortez and the Pacific Ocean converge, the JW Marriott Los Cabos Beach Resort & Spa complements the beauty of the sea and the natural surroundings. Where to spend your resort credit? Definitely at the 6,560-square-foot Jasha Spa, and on a detox in the pre-Hispanic-style Temazcal, a Mexican sweat lodge used by ancient Aztecs to promote healing, health and well-being.
