••• Live the High Life

Experience Hong Kong in style at the internationally acclaimed InterContinental Hong Kong, renowned for its magnificent Victoria Harbour and Hong Kong Island views.

Dramatic Harbor View Accommodations

At InterContinental Hong Kong, over two-thirds of the guest rooms and all suites feature sweeping harbor views, so whether you're gazing over the skyline from your suite or landmark-spotting from the stunning Lobby Lounge, all of Hong Kong is literally at your feet. For the ultimate experience, reserve the Presidential Suite. At 7,000 square feet, it's the largest suite in Hong Kong and one of the most spectacular in Asia with a duplex living room, five bedrooms, a dining room, private gym, and study; plus a 2,500-square-foot terrace with an infinity swimming pool and Jacuzzi featuring breathtaking views of Victoria Harbour and the Hong Kong Island skyline.

Spa Indulgence

At I-Spa, the hotel's feng shui inspired retreat, you can rebalance your yin and yang with a rejuvenating Oriental Healing or Jet-lag relief treatment in a luxurious private spa suite with its own Jacuzzi, sauna, and steam shower.

In-the-Know Experiences

Enjoy local culture with a dim sum making class or private tour of the Wong Tai Sin Temple, where an authentic soothsayer will tell your fortune. With the guidance of the hotel's ever-helpful and extremely knowledgeable concierge, discover the city's best-kept secrets – from a wonderful off-the-beaten track wonton noodle shop to the finest bespoke suit maker in town.

Decadent Dining

Nowhere else in Hong Kong can you find panoramic harbor views from every dining venue and two celebrity chef restaurants under one roof – with the two-Michelin-star SPOON by Alain Ducasse, showcasing contemporary French fare, and NOBU InterContinental Hong Kong with its world-famous innovative Japanese cuisine. The hotel's one-Michelin-star Yan Toh Heen, featuring authentic Cantonese cuisine, also draws gourmands from all parts of the world.

... A Traveler’s Paradise

Boasting more than a century of legendary service to distinguished guests from across the world, Raffles Hotel offers an unparalleled blend of luxury, history, and colonial ambiance.

Timeless Elegance

Famously said to “stand for all the fables of the exotic East,” Raffles is one of Singapore’s most beloved landmarks, welcoming celebrities, renowned writers, and royalty since its establishment in 1887. Today, the hotel’s original grandeur has been preserved with loving attention to every last detail; the past melds into the present as the style and grace of a bygone era meets 21st century indulgence. Retreat to your private haven – one of the hotel’s 103 spacious suites – decorated with period furnishings and including a separate parlor, dressing area, and veranda, plus a host of modern conveniences and at-the-ready butlers. Or repose in the magnificent lobby – once a venue for the country’s most important social gatherings – outfitted with classical columns and pillars, white Carrara marble flooring, plush furniture, and elegant art pieces.

Perfect Pampering

Bask in the sun under the scented frangipani trees surrounding the exclusive rooftop swimming pool. Or unwind and rejuvenate at Raffles Spa, overlooking the hotel’s lush gardens. Personalized therapies include traditional treatments such as Deep Tissue Massage, Swedish Massage and Hungarian Moor mud wraps, guaranteed to melt all your cares away.

Decadent Dining

A culinary world unto itself, Raffles showcases 15 distinctive restaurants and bars. Dine on fine caviar, foie gras, and other French specialties in the superb Raffles Grill. Sip a cool cocktail in the renowned Long Bar, where the world-famous Singapore Sling was born. Or sample a North Indian buffet spread in the elegant and lofty Tiffin Room, starring an impressive array of traditional curries.

Tea Time

Slip into Singapore Past with Raffles’ traditional high tea, served on crisp white linens with gleaming silverware laid on square teak tables. Feast on a mix of petite finger sandwiches, freshly baked pastries, and soft, moist scones served with clotted cream and sweet homemade jams. The attentive, yet unobtrusive service of brisk, white-jacketed waiters completes this perfect Old World experience.

Epicurean Delights

Loosen your belt for Raffle’s sublime champagne Sunday brunch, set in the historic Bar & Billiard Room. Aptly known as the Connoisseur’s Heaven, this former gentlemen’s club houses two original billiard tables from the turn of the century – you can even shoot a round or two between courses. Sate yourself with fresh seafood, meats, a vast array of cheeses, and divine desserts. Complement your meal with vintages from Champagne Billecart-Salmon – an exclusive boutique champagne house – or choose from a world-class selection of martinis, single malts, cognacs, Armagnacs, ports, and sherries. Top your meal off with chocolate, coffee and, of course, a fine Cuban cigar.

Al Fresco Finery

Watch the colorful parade of passers-by in Raffles Courtyard, a timeless structure with white arches flanked by tropical palms and native plants. Gaze at the starry sky in the colonial-style cocktail bar, and dine on the finest ocean catch prepared à la minute in light Mediterranean flavors typical of the French Riviera. Observe as your meal – perhaps the delicious Courtyard Bouillabaisse – is prepared before your eyes in the traditional al fresco kitchen.

Retail Therapy

Browse the many inviting shops and boutiques in the fittingly grand Raffles Hotel Arcade. Surrounded by tropical gardens and pristine courtyards, the Arcade houses more than 35 international and regional specialty stores, including bespoke tailors, art galleries, rare antiques, and luxury labels. Catch a show at the charming Jubilee Hall, a Victorian-style theater that hosts the nation’s premier performances. Or explore the Raffles Hotel Museum, full of period photographs and memorabilia representing the Golden Age of Travel.

The Fullerton Hotel Singapore

... The Past Meets the Present

Rising like a proud sentry from the mouth of the storied Singapore River, The Fullerton Hotel is one of the country's most recognizable landmarks, a historic icon of unsurpassed charm.

"A Monument Worthy of the City"

Built in 1928 to celebrate the 100th year of Singapore's founding by the British, the original Fullerton Building was the country's largest and grandest structure of its time. With commanding views of the Singapore River and the Marina Bay harbor, it quickly became the center of Singapore's commercial, social, and official life, home to the nation's General Post Office, The Exchange, Chamber of Commerce, and The Singapore Club. Today, The Fullerton's majestic Doric columns, coffered ceilings, cornices, and Italian marble floors have been restored to their original splendor, and the hotel remains, in the words of Singapore's early governor, "A monument worthy of the city."

A Contemporary Icon

Voted one of the "500 World's Best Hotels in 2011" by the readers of Travel + Leisure, the Fullerton blends Old World elegance with new world luxury and technology. Unwind in stylishly chic guest rooms featuring spacious, Philippe Starck-inspired bathrooms and grand balconies that open to sweeping panoramas of the city skyline, river promenade, or sea. Then spend a languid day by the outdoor infinity pool – overlooking the Singapore River and flanked by Doric columns, it's one of the most picturesque spots in the city.

A Grand Prix View

Head to the city in September for the Singapore Grand Prix – Formula 1's only night race – and get an up-close view of the circuit from The Fullerton. Located on the doorstep of the circuit's thrilling hair-pin turn at Anderson Bridge, the hotel provides perfect track-side views of this glamorous, highly anticipated race.

ICONICHOTELSASIA

... An Innately Imperial Experience

Quiet, airy, and restrained, the Imperial Hotel Tokyo is the grande dame of Tokyo's hotels, renowned for its flawless service and award-winning cuisine.

The Lush Life

Settle in to your newly renovated, ultra-luxe guest room, which comes complete with the fastest, safest, and newest Wi-Fi service in Japan. Or indulge in the exclusive Imperial Floor accommodations, some of which include high-tech goodies such as private mist saunas, and all of which provide personal kimono-clad guest attendants who will take care of your every need. Room styles vary widely, and all offer glittering views of Ginza or the ancient treetops of the Palace gardens or Hibiya Park across the way. For something extra special, reserve the one-bedroom Frank Lloyd Wright Suite, which opulently evokes the hotel's 1923 ambience with Hopi-inspired carpets, stained-glass windows, terra cotta tiling, and massive art deco wall reliefs.

Peerless Precision

From its earliest days, The Imperial has offered guests uncompromising levels of hospitality, making it the hotel of choice for dignitaries and celebrities from around the world. First opened in 1890 at the behest of the Imperial Palace, this legendary hotel gracefully combines classical Japanese precision with lavish European luxury. The hotel's understated entrance, just steps from the dazzling shops of Ginza, belies a world of finesse and refinement commensurate with the capital's most exclusive address.

Exquisite Epicurean Theater

Treat yourself to an elegant evening at The Imperial's internationally-acclaimed French dining room, Les Saisons, which recently underwent a $5.5 million makeover. Considered one of the capital's best French restaurants, Les Saisons features the award-winning cuisine of rising-star chef Thierry Voisin, who hails from the three Michelin-starred Les Crayeres in Reims.

... The Soul of Japan

Building on a legacy of hospitality going back half a century, the new incarnation of the iconic Palace Hotel Tokyo showcases the essence of Japanese serenity and refinement.

A Grand Reopening

Showcasing a one-of-a-kind Japanese experience, the much buzzed about Palace Hotel reopened in May after a $1.2 billion rebuilding from the ground up. Overlooking the ancient moat and lavish gardens of the Imperial Palace in the exclusive district of Marunouchi – a Wall Street meets Madison Avenue hybrid – the hotel boasts spectacular views of the Palace and Tokyo's skyline from every room and from nearly all public spaces. Japanese culture is celebrated in every detail, from the Aji stones at the grand entrance (evoking the Imperial Palace moat's stonework) to the 300-thread count Imabari linens in every room, to the omotenashi (hospitality) at every encounter. Just steps away, the fabulous tree-lined street of Marunouchi Naka Dori, filled with upscale boutiques and cutting-edge eateries, is just waiting to be explored.

Rooms with a View

Sophisticated and sumptuous, Palace accommodations are a tranquil haven from Tokyo's busy streets. The hotel's 290 rooms and suites are suitably spacious, with soft, contemporary décor that reflects the Imperial Palace gardens – leafy carpet motifs and an earthy mix of golds and creams accented with splashes of vibrant colors throughout. Unwind on your open terrace or balcony, where you can see sacred Mount Fuji on a clear day, and the glowing Tokyo Tower by night. Inside, relax in your soaking tub within your expansive, open-style bathroom. Dry off with Imabari bath towels from Ehime prefecture, sip a cup of Maruyama Nori tea, manufactured in Tokyo's Tsukiji district, and revel the Palace's many other unique Japanese touches.

Exquisite Rejuvenation

Spoil yourself with French savoir-faire and Asian therapies at evian SPA TOKYO, only the second evian spa outside of France and the city's most ambitious new spa. Enjoy captivating views from the 12,669-square-foot haven, which includes five treatment rooms, one spa suite, and separate women's and men's relaxation lounges. Stay in shape at the fitness facility, open round-the-clock, or take a dip in the indoor pool, framed by wall-to-wall windows and an outdoor terrace.

Asian-Inspired Delicacies

Join the legions of connoisseurs who have made the Palace a favorite dining destination, now more impressive than ever with a host of new restaurants created by Michelin-starred chefs. Sample authentic Japanese delicacies at Sushi Kanesaka, run by Michelin two-star chef Shinji Kanesaka, or request a spot at the intimate tempura bar or theatrical teppanyaki grill. Taste Shanghainese and Cantonese cuisine at Amber Palace, which boasts a menu designed by the operators of Tokyo's two-star Michelin restaurant Fureika.

International Delights

Experience the ultimate in French fare at Crown, reopened in collaboration with Patrick Henrroux of the Michelin two-star La Pyramide in Vienne, France. Craving casual? Dine al fresco on Grand Kitchen's moat-side terrace, or cozy up to its impressive fireplace. Satisfy your sweet tooth at Sweets & Deli, where the homemade chocolate and fresh-baked bread is sublime.

Elegantly Chic Bars & Lounges

Recline on the outdoor terrace at the sleek Lounge Bar Privé, offering fantastic views of the city skyline. Tickle the ivories at the Lounge's Steinway, original to the 1961 hotel. Or sip an old-fashioned martini paired with a fine cigar at Royal Bar downstairs. Royal Bar continues the legacy of the first bartender at the original Palace, known as Mr. Martini, complete with painstakingly restored handcrafted counters (which he originally designed), and his legendary martini.
